

SILK BLOOMS

Silk Blooms, the UK's leading manufacturer of luxury silk wedding flowers, strongly believes that wedding memories should last forever, and they should be perfect.

You don't want to remember that you paid a fortune for flowers that wilted at the end of your wedding day, or gave you hay fever through the ceremony, or weren't exactly the colour you wanted... right?

So we came up with a solution: top quality, luxury artificial flowers that are so beautiful everyone mistakes them for real flowers. Any kind of flower, in any colour, at any time of the year. Rainbow flowers? We can do that. Turquoise lilies in December? No problem. Every bouquet is handmade and tailored to our customer's desires.

But don't take our word for it. See for yourself:

We'd love to work together to create lasting memories for your customers.
